THE LEADER IN FULL BODY SUIT ENGINEERING

YOUR COMMITMENT TO GET HERE BORDERS ON OBSESSION. AN OBSESSION, NOT JUST TO COMPETE WITH THE BEST, BUT TO BEAT THE BEST. TRACER TECHNOLOGY WAS DEVELOPED WITH THE SAME OBSESSION. AN OBSESSION FOR SUIT TECHNOLOGY, PERFORMANCE AND INNOVATION THAT MAKES TRACER THE FASTEST SWIMSUIT ON EARTH.

1999: TYR full body suit tests at the U.S. Olympic Training Center find 6% drag reduction at the International Center for Aquatic Research.

2003: A study by the USA Swimming Sports Science Committee proves that TYR technology provides the most streamlined position for an athlete and reduces form drag better than the leading manufacturers.

In addition, it was shown that TYR was the leader in pioneering natural buoyancy. TYR technology shifted the location of center of buoyancy a significant amount closer to the center of mass in such a way that it would tend to reduce the amount that the legs would sink relative to the rest of the body. The study concluded that “In the end only one suit (TYR) provided a significant reduction in CB-CM distance.”

2004: TYR was the first company to de-compose the components of overall drag in high performance racing suits. With the University at Buffalo, State University of New York, significant improvements in research technique found an 18% reduction in pressure drag, 53% in wave drag and a 10% overall reduction in drag. Results were published in the Journal of Medicine, Science, Sports & Exercise.

2007: Water repellency testing conducted in 2007, by the worldwide leading firm in certification, achieved a perfect rating. Headquartered in Paris, the bureau's results authenticate years of testing TYR has invested in engineering surface boundary technology.

2008: The first two swimmers named to the 2008 USA Swimming Olympic Team qualify wearing Tracer.

- TYR ATHLETES SET 56 LIFETIME PERSONAL BEST TIMES IN 2008

WHEN USING TRACER TECHNOLOGY, TYR ATHLETES HAVE DEMONSTRATED UP TO A 4% IMPROVEMENT IN THEIR TIMES.

Amaury Leveaux has swam faster than any American swimmer in history. In 2008 the European Record holder did something no other swimmer in history has ever done. Setting personal bests in the 50m and 200m freestyle, Amaury became the first and only swimmer in the world to ever swim the 50m Free under 22 seconds and the 200m Free under 1:47.

First competitive swimming use of polyurethane woven fabric (January 18, 2008) at the Southern California Grand Prix (no other company had used this technology until February of 2008).

Doug Van Wie established a new World Record and American Record in the Men's 4x100m Short Course Freestyle Relay.

Mary DeScenza broke the oldest American Record in the 200 Fly at the 2008 FINA SC World Championships. Her improvement in time was 2.9%.

RAPID BOUNDARY TECHNOLOGY

REPELLENCY

RAPID BOUNDARY TECHNOLOGY

The first high performance polyurethane ever used in competition. Non-permeable membrane provides lowest possible drag coefficient and enhances high body positioning for maximum stroke efficiency.

MUSCLE CONTOUR SEAMING

Controls movements to offset fatigue. Resilient flat lock seaming secures stretch, shape and memory retention for maximum compression.

ENGINEERED COMPRESSION PANELS

Compresses body mass to streamline the swimmer and reduce drag. Optimizes muscle oxygenation for enhanced energy return and lactic acid removal.

RECORD BREAKING TECHNOLOGY

MAXIMUM WATER REPELLENCY

Exclusive water repellent treatment applied at the fiber level virtually eliminates absorption.

SHOCK-FREE SPRING LOADED ZIPPER

Elasticized coil zipper ensures secure fit, maximum flexibility and range of motion.

ULTRA LIGHTWEIGHT MICROFINE FIBER

Utilizes the lightest woven stretch fabric available for racing. Super bi-flex stretch for maximum movement. High fiber density prevents water saturation.

TRACER™ LIGHT was developed by the world's top swimmers, coaches and human performance experts to be a fine balance between human physiology, science and art. By examining muscular and anatomical structure, we designed TRACER LIGHT to fit with precision over the world's most elegant form – the human body.

TRACER LIGHT does exactly what the name implies. Engineered compression in each panel traces along the muscular contours of the body optimizing athletic performance benefits. By targeting each individual panel, TYR has developed the first performance swimwear technology that addresses muscle oxygenation, cadenced muscle responsiveness, and muscle core and energy return systems.

Tracing the muscles that are the power source for all swimmers with extra compression panels, flat-lock stitching and a lightweight, hydrophobic and quick-drying fabric, TRACER LIGHT is proof of TYR's commitment and promise to the athlete and their drive for achievement. The benefits of drag reduction and body mass containment, while maximizing athletic performance and muscular torque and flexion, have never been greater.
